SOUTH NASHVILLE.

On Thursday next, on the premises, Messrs. LINDSLEY & CROCKETT will sell some one hundred lots in Maury & CLAIBORNE's addition. These lots held out inducements to buvers, especially those wanting next, convenient and cheap houses. The lots are generally of very fine soil, and are on the highest ground almost in the city, and conveniently laid off, being intersected by 50 feet streets at intervals of every 350 feet, so that each block of lots is 350 feet square, bounded on all sides by streets 50 feet wide and intersected by 20 foot alleys, thus rendering the lots convenient of access." By this arrangement it is impossible to crowd the ground with buildings so as to interfere with light and heat, and the free circulation through the streets and alleys will contribute much to the health and comfort of this locality. Wharf street, which bounds one side of this addition, is eighty feet wide.

We believe the value of lots in our city is not properly understood. Our population is rapidly increasing and there is a great demand for small tenements. We mean by small tenements, neat houses, containing from two to five rooms, situated in good portions of the city, at prices from one to two hundred dollars,

At least two bundred such buildings, if now under way, would find immediate occupants; for our free schools would at once induce a large influx of population, if they could procure houses. What a men would pay for rent, in an ordinary family would be little more than what he had been paying for tuition for his children in the commo schools of the country. In addition to all this, these who have been unable to educate their child? ren, us they would desire, have now free access to the best schools in the land; for the Board of Education have spared no pains or expense to procure the services of competent and experienced teachers.

The lefs to be sold on the 25th are all admirably located, and we think our citizen would do well to attend the sale. The man without a home should attend and purchase. If he has children, he wil save more money in tuition alone, than the price of his lots, during the time he has to pay it in. I, will be but a short time before the Water and Gas Pipes will be extended throughout our city.

Messes. Lind Ley & Crockert will be happy to furnish further information to all who will apply

These lots are all convenient to good water.

Of all things in nature or art, animate or inanimate, nothing strikes such terror to our souls or fills us with so phastly a horror, as a coffin.-It is natural to sympathise with the dead; and overlooking what is of real importance in their situation-the futurity that awaits them-we are chiefly afflicted by those circumstances which strike our senses, but can have no influence upon their happiness. How miserable it seems to us to be deprived of the best of the san, to be shut out from light | take in the old Clay and Webster Whigs. These very sight and thought of which makes our blood run cold, to be faid in the grave, a prey to corruption and the teptiles of the earth, we imagine we mover can feel too much for those who have passed through "the valley of the shidow of death." The tribute of our follow-feeling seems doubly due to them, when they are in danger of bein. I forgutten by overybody, and by paying honor to their memory, we endeavor to keep alive our melancholy remembrance of their departure. Their happiness is assuredly in no way affected by these circumstances, nor do these thoughts disturb the seconity of their repose. It is to alleviate our regrets that we enter upon the pride, pump and circumstance of the funeral, and it is with the same pressed as from our youth upward. When Corrella, the mother of the Graconi, was shown the magnificent jewels belonging to some lady of great wealth and rank, and the demand was rather boastingly made, that she should make a similar display, Livy relates that she retired to another spactment, and shortly afterwards, returned with b rehildren, "These," she exclaimed, "these are my jewe's tome my most precious ornaments." The idea is beautiful, and must have barrated the minds of Mesers, Chane, Brest & Co., when they so appropriately designated their new burial case, "The Caskst," for it is indeed a casket in which any of us may be called to deposit our most previous jowers, to be safely held until time

Dr. Bath, the African explorer, has returned to Europe, after an absence of five years in the interior of Africa. During his absence he has made discoveries which have greatly increased our knowledge of Central Africa, and of the countries East and South-east of lake Tsad as far as the basin of the Nile. In his unparalleled journey to Timbuctoo he discovered two large empires, Grande, and Hamd Allaki, of which not even the names were known previously, and gained a complete insight into the history and present state of Timbuctoo, its interest that the unseemly coffin is displaced, and room given to the gorgeous Burial Casket, which | people and all the surrounding countries.

CHERRY PECTORAL For the rapid Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

This remerly is offered to the community with the confidence we feel in an article which acidom falls to realize the impliest effects that can be deshed. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous he cases of its curves, that almost every section or country abounds in pursons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. Whom ones tried its supernority over every other medicine of i.e kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer healthing of the remptoy for the distressing and dangerous affections of the polemousty organs which are incident to our climste. So much a categories and course limits. Or medical men than the alarming prevalence and trainity of consemptive complaints, nor has any one class of diseases had more of their investigations and care. But us yet no note-peak its protection from attacks upon the respiratory or more of their investigations and care. But us yet he notequale remedy has been provided on which the public coulis depend for projection from attacks upon the respiratory orgala, until the introduction of the Carrary Francala. This article is the product of a long, laborious, and, I believe, successful endeavor, to furnish the community with such a remedy. Of this last statement the American people are now themselves prepared to judger and I appair with contilionce to their decision. It there is any dependence to be placed in what near of every class and action certicy it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see dangerous affections of the threat and lange yield to it, if we can depend upon be assurance of intelligent physicians who make it their business to know; in short, if there is any relance upon anything, then it is freatiably proven that this inclience does relieve and does care the class of lineages it is designed for, beyond any and all others that are known to mankind. If this he true, it cannot be too freely published, nor he roo widely known. The afflored should know it, a remedy that carea is priceless to them. Parents should know it, or hearth can be prised to no one. Not only should it be cironlated here, but every where—not only in this country, but in all countries. How faithfully we have acted on this conrection is shown in the feet that aircrafy this article has mode the circles of the globe. The sus exver sets an its limits ine continuit is without it, and but few peoples. Although not is as general use in other nations as in this, it is employed by the most menting employed in both America, in Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, and the lar of islands of the grap at a valueller remedy with even more aveiling composition of codtreations of the kind, it is an expensive composition of as don't camed with even more notified. Unlike most preparations of its kind, it is an expensive composition of costity material. Still it is afformed to the public at a reasonably ow price; and, what is of vastly more importance to them, its quality is never suffered to decline from the original standard of encollence. Every bottle of this medicine, now manufactured, is no good as ever has been made herefolore, or as we are capable of making. No toil or cost is spared in maintaining it in the best perfection which it is possible to produce. Hence the patient who procures the genuine Cumary Proconal can rely upon having as good an article as bas ever been had by those who testify to its cures. it paraming this course, I have the hope of doing some good in the world, as well as has satisfaction of believing that much has been done alread? much has been done already.

THE DESERTED WIFE, BY MRS. EMMA D.

N. N. SOUTHWORTH, author of "The Missing Brider or, Miriam, the Avanger," "The Lost Heiress," "The Wife's Victors," (for Complete in one volume of 600 pages, bound in cloth, for $1.50 cents; or in two vol-umes, paper cover, for $1.00. The announcement of a new book by Mrs. Southworth, the author of "The Lost Heires," is a matter of great interest to all that love to read, and admire pure and chaste American works. "The Deserted Wife" is a new work of unusual power and thrilling interest. The scene is haid in one of the southern States and the story gives a picture of the manners and customs of the manners and customs of the manners. of the manners and customs of the planting gentry, in an age tot far removed backward from the present. The ensureders are drawn with a strong hand, and the book abounds with scenes of intense interest, the whole plot heing wrought out with much power and effect, and no one. we are confident, can read it without acknowledging that bossesses more than widney merit.
